As a volunteer, you have the honor of supporting patients through various interventions. One way to support patients further is providing patients and their families with an outlet to express themselves, their feelings, and their grief through a creative process.

Join us to learn a variety of art techniques that you can then utilize with patients and their families, or to support agency needs. There are both clinical and non-clinical opportunities.

No previous experience utilizing art techniques required

Presented by: Desiree Benedict, HWR Art Therapist
